

HERE'S HEALTH
FOR YOU.

St. Peter's chapel in the Tower of London is said by a writer in the Sphere to have more sad memories than any other place in London. This writer says that in St. Peter's chapel the head and body of the Duke of Monmouth were placed under the communion table after his execution in 1685. Within four years the pavement of the chapel was again disturbed, and hard by the remains of Monmouth were laid the remains of Jeffreys. Macaulay, in recording the fact, wrote an eloquent description of the chapel. In truth, there is no sadder spot on earth than that little cemetery. "Death is there associated—not as in Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's with genius and virtue, with public veneration and imperishable renown; not as in our humblest churches and churchyards with everything that is most endearing in social and domestic charities—but with whatever is darkest in human nature and human destiny, with the savage triumph of implacable enemies, with the inconsistency, the ingratitude, the cowardice of friends, with all the miseries of fallen greatness and of blighted fame." "Through successive ages, by the rude hands of jailer with out one mourner following," according to this same authority, "the bleeding relics of men who had been the captains of armies, the leaders of parties, the oracles of the senate, the ornaments of courts, were carried to St. Peter's. Thither was borne, before the window where Jane Grey was praying, the mangled corpse of Gullford Dudley, Edward Seymour, Duke of Somerset and Protector of the realm, reposes there by the brother whom he murdered. There has mouldered away the headless trunk of John Fisher, Bishop of Rochester and Cardinal of St. Vitalis, a man worthy to have lived in a better age and to have died in a better cause. There are laid John Dudley, Duke of Northumberland, Lord High Admiral; Thomas Cromwell and Earl of Essex, Lord High Treasurer. There, too, is another Essex, on whom nature and fortune had lavished all their bounties in vain, and whom valor, grace, genius, royal favor, popular applause, conducted to an early and ignominious doom. Not far off sleep two chiefs of the great house of Howard—Thomas, fourth Duke of Norfolk, and Philip, eleventh Earl of Arundel. Here and there among the thick graves of unquiet and aspiring statesmen lie more delicate sufferers: Margaret of Salisbury, and those two fair queens who perished by the jealous rage of Henry. Such was the dust with which the dust of Monmouth mingled." In a note he adds: "I cannot refrain from expressing my disgust at the barbarous stupidity which has transformed this most interesting little church into the likeness of a meeting house in a manufacturing town."

"A neighbor ran in with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy when my son was suffering with severe cramps and was given up as beyond hope by my regular physician, who stands high in his profession. After administering three doses of it, my son regained consciousness and recovered entirely within twenty-four hours, says Mrs. Mary Haller, of Mt. Crawford, Va. This remedy is for sale by Arcadia Valley Drug Co."

This Institution is designed and constructed for the comfort and accommodation of patients who seek relief and recuperation and the recovery of lost health. Its location is admirable for this purpose. It is on the Iron Mountain Railway, 89 miles south of St. Louis, and 640 feet above that city. Nestled at the foot of Shepherd Mountain, embowered among majestic trees, just off the main street, and free from its noise and dust, and alongside, and connected with, the famed Emerson Park, with its shady walks and driveways, Sylvan Lake and Grant Spring, and their attractive surroundings, no more beautiful or restful retreat for the invalid and convalescent, or the weary and careworn, can be found in all America.

Mrs. Fred Unrath,

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.
